THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

It is Likely to be Finished After All.

A Washington letter says: The Washington monument is now 340 feet high; by next November it will be 450 feet high. The work of laying the large marble blocks will begin again at the end of the present month. This year the marble comes from the Lee quarries of Massachusetts; last year it came from Baltimore county, Maryland. The work of the engineers in charge will be finished some time in the fall of 1884, when the monument will be 555 feet high. This will include a pyramid fifty-five feet high, which is precisely the width of the monument at its base. It is one of the interesting features of this monument that it tapers so gradually that when it shall have reached its great height its width at the top will be only 13 feet less than at the bottom.

Now that the clock has grown so high, it is beginning to be interesting. It is noticeable that not only visitors, but the people who live here, who have watched the growth of the shaft day after day, are beginning to take an interest in it. At Funerals.

At a funeral in New Rochelle, says a New York City paper, the officiating clergyman informed those who were in the church that it was requested of those who should assemble at the place of burial that they should remain covered during the funeral ceremonies. It was explained that this suggestion was made out of a regard for the health of many whose exposure to the elements of the air is so often attended with danger.

It often happens that the services at the grave are long, and more than once it has been said of a man brought down to death by a sudden attack of pneumonia, that his fatal illness was contracted while standing bare-headed in an outdoor funeral service. Not long since, while the ground was so dry, while the sun was so hot, and while the air was so full of dust, that a burial at Woodlawn provided floor-cloths for the covering of the turf around a burial-place for the protection of those who were to pay their last tributes to the memory of a friend. Those recent instances of thoughtfulness for the living are commended to the attention of all people who desire the best for the dead.

God in Nature.

In a recent scientific lecture Professor C. A. Young, the astronomer, of Princeton College, used the following language: "Do not understand me at all as saying that there is no mystery about the planets, motions. There is just the one single mystery—gravitation!—and it is a very profound one. How is it that an atom of matter attracts another atom, no matter how great the distance, no matter what intervening substance there may be, how it will act upon it, or at least believe as it acted upon it, I do not know. I cannot tell. Whether they are pushed together by means of an intervening ether, or what it is, I cannot tell. It stands with me as a mystery, no matter how great the distance, no matter what intervening substance there may be, how it will act upon it, or at least believe as it acted upon it, I do not know. Remember the adjourned school meeting next Monday night.

Talk on Peter Cooper, next Sunday evening at Concert Hall. Services during the day as usual.

A very successful term of singing school under the instruction of Prof. Burnham closed Wednesday evening.

Mr. B. Bacon moved into the rent recently occupied by Mrs. Twombly.

W. H. Whitcomb is having his stable painted.

C. B. Cummings starts up the saw mill and makes a request to "log owners."

W. C. Pierce lost a valuable horse Thursday by breaking its leg.

Cyrus S. Tucker has carriage mats, lap robes and dusters, nets and covers for horses for sale at his shop. See ad.

Mr. H. P. Elliott of North Waterford was in town Monday. We suppose there is no doubt that Messrs. Elliott & Bartlett have the largest and best regulated spool mill in the State. This is what the knowing ones say. They are to convert some 1,800 cords of birch into spools this season and some 800 cords of oak into shooks.

J. Clark's show window has been embellished with the red and white rose-bush on which were many full blown roses.

C. E. Rimes, the baker, clips horses, or at least he clipped his own.

A movement is being made towards organizing a Camp of Sons of Veterans in our village. Several camps have already been instituted in this State, and it seems that as many soldiers as Norway and vicinity have produced in the past, there could be a large one started here.

While pertaining something of the principles of the G. A. R., and being in a certain sense an auxiliary to it, the "Sons of Veterans" is an entirely independent order and one in which all of our young men whose fathers "wore the blue" should take an active interest.

At a meeting of the Norway Light Infantry held at the Armory last Saturday evening, Capt. Frank P. Merrill of Auburn, presiding, the following officers were elected: Capt. O. W. Collins; 1st Lieut. W. A. Ripley; 2nd, G. B. Stuart.

Rousing temperance meeting last Sunday afternoon. The subject was addressed by members of the Club, Rev. Mr. Simons and others.

At the school district meeting held at the Academy Monday evening, Free-land Howe was elected Moderator, J. C. Young, Clerk, and W. E. Frye, Agent. The district voted to establish a Free High School and raised $300 for maintaining the same. A committee of five was chosen to present plans for the better accommodation of the scholars attending school and are to report to the district at an adjourned meeting April 23d, 1883. The report of the agent for last year showed that the amount in the Treasury of some $800. Capt. Whitmarsh, who has been school agent for the last four years has managed the financial affairs of the district admirably.

In answer to the question, "where is the Whitmore district?" will say it is in Paris, and if we understand rightly is east of Paris Hill and joins Buckfield.

The Portland Minstrels performed in Norway Hall last Saturday evening before a large audience. The hall was well filled. Our people turned out handsomely and for their 25 and 50 cent bits liberally given deserved a better entertainment than was presented by the above company. We do not wish to be unjust or over-exacting in our criticisms and will give due credit for some amusing jokes, good hits and well-sustained performances, but as a whole the show failed to fill the bill and give that satisfaction which merits newspaper approval. The music was good and we are pleased to note was appreciated by the audience. Prof. Grimmer is a valuable addition to any orchestra.

Rev. Mr. Simons preaches his farewell sermon at the Methodist Church next Sabbath p. m. Thus closing his three years' pastoral labors at South Paris. There has been considerable of a revival in his church the past winter and spring and there will be a baptism next Sabbath. Mr. Simons has labored faithfully, earnestly and zealously in his charge here and he has endeavored himself not only to all the people of his own society but to every one who has made his acquaintance.

There is nothing like advertising. Especially in a good paper like the ADVERTISER. We found our cat last Friday simply through the medium of advertising. The cat was visiting over to neighbor Haskill's.

We understand that the Insolvency cases of Guss. Pike, concerning which there has been much comment in this village, where the debtor was examined at length by C. E. Holt, in behalf of creditors who elected him assignee, has been finally decided. Judge Frye denies the debtor his discharge. As the points in the opinion may be of practical importance to our business men, we shall hereafter publish it in full.

At the final hearing H. B. Beares argued for the petitioner and A. S. Kimball for the creditors.

The Ladies Circle of the Congregational Church next Wednesday evening, at the vestry, will offer a novel entertainment—A Soap Bubble Contest—offering a prize to the gentleman blowing the largest bubble, and another to the lady doing likewise. Usual supper at 7 p. m. Admission 10 cents; supper 5 cents. Come all, come all, and help the ladies.

Notice Mrs. A. B. Chase's advertisement. She is constantly receiving new goods, and is selling them at low rates. Drop in and see the latest novelties in the millinery line.

There has been an act passed whereby all persons are forbidden to fish for, take or kill any kind of fish in Pennesseewassee and Hobbis ponds in this town for five years during the months of April, May and June of each year.

In this connection it may be well to remember that sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, police officers and constables are hereby vested with all the powers conferred by law upon game wardens and their deputies, and shall be liable for their services the same fees as are now prescribed for sheriffs and their deputies.

Mrs. E. W. Howe has a remarkable ivy. Indeed, we doubt if there is another that for luxuriance and beauty can equal it in the State. It is a common English ivy, and is nourished by the earth in a pot that would scarcely hold a holly. The ivy is judged to be 400 yards in length, and so thrifty the foliage grows almost to its roots. It has wound itself entirely around the room five or six times and now in two or three places has nearly climbed across the ceiling besides twining about pictures and ornaments on the walls. The plant is nine years old and has some twenty-five branches. Mrs. H. attributes its growth to the fact that she handles it as little as possible, taking care there should be little dust, smoke, etc. in the room. Occasionally she waters it with a little ammonia in the water. It is a beautiful plant and well worth being admired.

Peter's Magazine for May is an extra page of colored designs to represent the Hungarian styles in cross-stitch. The value for a window, table cover in applique, and many other designs together with the spring fashions make this number very interesting. The opening chapters of "The Oakwood Tragedy" lead us to expect a fine story, and the story "Rule of Rain" increases in interest.

The S. S. Com. have introduced a plan whereby they hope to secure a higher literary qualification in our graduates. The plan is to require the faithful and capable may be sifted out from the indifferent and the incapable, and to have the standing of each possible to all people, so that there can be no excuse for the agent who employs a teacher of poor qualifications. The teachers will be divided into three grades. All must pass through the third and second to reach the first. No one will be admitted to the third grade whose average rank is less than 6 in the following studies: Spelling, Reading, Arithmetic, Eng. Grammar, Geography, History, Book-keeping and Physiology. Each teacher who obtains a rank of 8 in any grade will be entitled to try for the next higher.

The studies in the second grade will include those before named, in which the test will be harder, and in addition, Nat. Philosophy, (first half of Steele's) Algebra and Science of Government. In the last study only the leading features of our State Gov. and of the U. S. Gov. will be required. No one will be given a certificate to teach whose qualifications do not admit him to all three grades. No one will be allowed to teach the most advanced schools whose standing in the third grade will not entitle him to try for the second grade. An examination for the third grade was held April 17th. Another examination will be held on Saturday, May 5th, at 9 a. m. This will be for those who could not be present before and also for those who were admitted to the third grade with a rank of 8 or more. In the next school report will appear the names of the teachers in each grade. Teachers who fail this spring should put in some good hard work during the summer and try again at the fall examination. If this plan is faithfully carried out by the present and succeeding school boards, the best teachers will be brought to the front and receiving a proper reward for their industry, while the poorest will soon find themselves discarded and out of the race.

Capt. Frank P. Merrill of the firm of Merrill & Moore, printers, of Auburn made us a visit Saturday.

Our milliners and dress-makers are to be in Boston the last of the month. New goods and long advertisements wait their return.

The snow is gone. Street dusty, in places. The sprinkler will be out shortly by way of the cart of the ice-man.

Wonder if the O. L. L. fellows of this village are to observe the anniversary of the introduction of Oldfellowship in America with an appropriate celebration. The anniversary comes on the 26th.

Free-land Howe has a pair of tame gray squirrels. They recently came from Otisfield by way of purchase. They are very amusing pets, and attract a good deal of attention as they skip about the yard and climb trees and jump upon your shoulders in search of nuts. They are so tame they can be easily called and are in their danger lies.

W. C. Pierce has at his store an assortment of 5 cents stereoscopic views. Call in and see him. Agents wanted.

Are you to have an auction? If so you will get a poster and mention your sale in this paper.

Mr. T. Stuart shows us a copy of the Maine Baptist Herald of Feb. 1883. It was printed at Brunswick, by the veteran publisher and printer, Joseph Griffin. It is a good specimen of ancient journalism. It has a couple of columns from Dr. Smith's journal and a page of religious reading. We notice that they had sheriff's sales in those days and that they had a good deal of kind of liquor found a prominent position in the advertising columns. Evidently these goods were not contraband or this religious journal would have been guilty of advertising such wares. "Brown's drops for dizziness" find a place among the advertising and the ancient remedies long since gone into disuse.

M. M. Phinney has an announcement in this paper that will be of interest to the readers.

Bishop's Georgia Minstrels at Norway Hall Tuesday evening gave a good show to a well-filled house. Every one seemed to enjoy the entertainment.

Jordan and Kimball, of Harrison carried on extension business in shooks. From their shops in this village they have shipped between Jan. 20 and Apr. 14th, 42 soap bubble contests—offering a prize to the gentleman blowing the largest bubble, and another to the lady doing likewise. Usual supper at 7 p. m. Admission 10 cents; supper 5 cents. Come all, come all, and help the ladies.

Notice Mrs. A. B. Chase's advertisement. She is constantly receiving new goods, and is selling them at low rates. Drop in and see the latest novelties in the millinery line.

received a pension, and nearly $1,800 back pay. They are every year, and their neighbors rejoice with them.

Last Wednesday, the eleventh, all were invited to Mr. Amos Holt's to a "sugar party." We understand there were about fifty invitations given, but the day was so stormy, only eighteen or twenty were present. Those were effectively sweetened however, and well supplied with "hot coffee and tea, pies and things" afterward. Mr. Spaulding and wife were present and most cordially welcomed by all.

Our oldest neighbor, and we think the oldest person in town, Mrs. Susanna Woodbridge is as smart and strong as those much younger. She will be ninety-two in June, and says she "expects to live some time longer." She is somewhat bowed with the weight of years, but her mind is as active as ever.

My sketch would not be complete if I should forget to mention that Simon Stevens, 83 years old, but just as enjoyable as ever, and his mind stored with stories of the earlier days of Norway. One is well repaid by spending an hour or two in conversation with him.

Don't, don't! I beg of you reach for those scissors, Mr. Editor. I am quite done, will be less garrulous hereafter.
